The cover of the British Medical Journal (BMJ) magazine. The title "BMJ" is prominently displayed in large white letters on a blue background. Below the title, several headlines are listed: "Steroid injection for plantar fasciitis", "Maintenance drugs for opioid dependence", "Managing ventilator assisted pneumonia", and "BMJ Group Awards: the winners". The central illustration depicts a large, stylized human figure with a red torso and purple shorts, surrounded by smaller figures and icons representing various medical and social concepts. At the bottom right, the text "OVERDIAGNOSIS Harming the healthy" is written in white.
